Dear Mr. Dougherty:

I write in response to your January 27, 2006, email and to supplement Plaintiff Ed Hedemann's Responses to Defendants' First Set of Interrogatories and Request for Production of Documents to Plaintiff Ed Hedemann. I am also enclosing a Verification of plaintiff Hedemann's responses to the interrogatories, as supplemented by the responses herein.

Supplementary Response to Interrogatory No. 4: Plaintiff sustained no physical or psychological injury as a result of the incident, but did experience physical discomfort and emotional distress.

Supplementary Response to Interrogatory No. 7: Notwithstanding and without waiving or in any way limiting the objections to this interrogatory or the general objections, plaintiff has received no psychological treatment within the last ten years.

Supplementary Response to Interrogatory No. 13: Notwithstanding and without waiving or in any way limiting the objections to this interrogatory or the general objections, plaintiff Hedemann has been arrested on the following occasions (other than the incident complained of herein) within the last ten years:

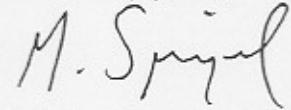

6/28/95 in Washington, DC, he was not convicted and was not incarcerated;
 10/19/98 in Arlington, VA, he was convicted and was incarcerated for two days;
 3/26/99 in New York, NY, he was not convicted and was not incarcerated;
 6/3/99 in New York, NY, he was not convicted and was not incarcerated;
 3/19/05 in Brooklyn, NY, he was not convicted and was not incarcerated.

Supplementary Response to Interrogatory No. 14: See response to Interrogatory No. 13.

Supplementary Response to Interrogatory No. 19: Plaintiff supplements his response by reference to enclosed photographs Bates numbered 18-45.

The enclosed photographs also supplement plaintiff's responses to Document Request Nos. 1 and 4.

Very truly yours,

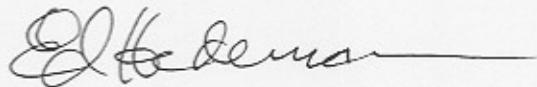

Michael L. Spiegel
